About Our Guest Musician Graham Lindsey

Graham Lindsey is no stranger in our midst. Graham was the person who did the video editing for Selby Church for more than two years during our pandemic-time church. It's also his song that begins and ends every service when our intro and outro videos play! But today is the first time Graham has played live in our sanctuary!

Graham brings a deep respect to the traditions that inform his inventive Celtic tunes. He energetically plays mandolin, tenor banjo, guitar and more. Graham plays many of his own tunes as well as more traditional Celtic/folk style music.

His debut album "TradHead" (2019) was nominated in the Instrumental Solo Artist category at the Canadian Folk Music Awards (2020), and the first single, "Fractions" from his second album received the 2021 Songs From the Heart Instrumental Award from Folk Music Ontario. Graham's music has been played on the Carillon in the Peace Tower of Parliament Hill, in Sweden, cruising in international waters and at festivals and venues in Canada.

Smile

Paddy and Murphy are working on a building site. Paddy says to Murphy, "I'm gonna' get the day off. I'm gonna' pretend I've gone mad!"

So Paddy climbs up the rafters, hangs upside down, and shouts "I'm a light bulb, I'm a light bulb!" while Murphy watches in amazement. The foreman shouts, "Paddy, go home. You've gone mad."

As Paddy leaves the site, Murphy starts packing his kit up to leave as well.

"Where do you think you're going?" asks the foreman. "Well, I can't work in the friggin' dark!" said Murphy.
